NO. 152.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

An eruption of Mount Vesuvius occurred Sunday night.

Tuzla, in Bosnia, has been surrendered to the Austrians.

The Mussulman, Greek, Bulgarian, Armenian and Jewish clergy of Adrianople express their gratitude to General Todleben for the protection Russian occupation has afforded them.

B. Davidson, formerly a prominent banker of San Francisco, died in England on the 21st instant.

A battle was fought with Indians within 35 miles of Dodge city, Kansas, Saturday, but the result is unknown.

Mrs. General Sherman is seriously ill at Atlantic city, New Jersey.

The inquiry of the German government into our system of taxing tobacco is progressing at Washington.

The French government is about to open a subscription for the fever stricken people of the United States.

The State fair of Nebraska opened at Lincoln on the 23d.

The first trotting meeting of the St. Louis Jockey and Trotting Club commenced the 24th.

The English Cabinet has assembled to discuss the Afghanistan affair. Trouble is expected. A large force from India is ordered to be in readiness on the frontier, where 12,000 men are already massed.

The Police Magistrate at Montreal on the 23d committed six Orangemen, arranged for belonging to an illegal society, for trial at the Court of the Queen's Bench.

Sir Richard John Griffith, civil engineer and author of the geographical map of Ireland, is dead.

Prince Bismarck's daughter, the Countess Marie, has been betrothed to Count Rantzau.

The Boston Traveler says that John F. Arnold will decline the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor on the Butler ticket.

Heavy rains have extinguished the forest fires in British Columbia.

In the Fourth District Court at San Francisco on the 23d, Timothy Lynch was found guilty of murder in the second degree, and John Spohr of murder in the first degree.

Henry Jackson killed himself with morphine, on the 22d at Portland, Oregon.

Geo. F. Smith, a wealthy farmer on the Stockton and lower Sacramento road, was shot and mortally wounded on the 23d by a tenant named James Journey.

D. W. Higgins, editor of the Colonist, is bound over to appear at the Assizes of British Columbia for an assault on R. Holloway, a reporter of the Standard. A paragraph reflecting on Higgins' family appeared in the Standard on Friday, and Higgins caned Holloway severely in front of the Supreme Court rooms the same day.

The Fair at Petaluma.

PETALUMA, Sept. 24.—The district fair of the Sonoma and Marin Agricultural society, which opened yesterday and will continue through the week, gives fine promise of successful termination. The entries for the first day exceed those of all previous years. The stock is of very fine quality, and most of the stalls are taken. The pavilion has been considerably enlarged and a large art gallery has been added. Several premiums besides Judge McShaffer's have been offered for the best cookery by girls under 18 years of age, and it is expected that there will be many competitors. The racing will commence to-day. There will be a double team trotting race for $250, with three entries, and another race for $200, also with three entries.

The San Joaquin Fair.

STOCKTON, September 24.—The eighteenth annual fair opened this morning under auspices brighter than ever. The city is filling with visitors. A large number of exhibitors arrived from the State fair. Andrew P. Hill, of San Jose, exhibits a fine display of oil painting. The track is in fine condition. There are three races to-day, two trotting and a three-quarter-mile dash for Joe Daniels' two-year-old colts. The stalls are all full.

A Put and Call Broker Collapses.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—J. R. McDonald, put and call broker, who started in a few days ago with McKee as chief manager, went up the flume this morning at 11:30. The presence of a squad of policemen was required to clear the putters and callers. There are some very suspicious circumstances connected with the matter which a committee of holders propose to investigate.

New York Concert for Yellow Fever Fund.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The concert at Gilmore's garden last night for the relief of yellow fever sufferers, given under the auspices of the firemen's ball committee of the old volunteer fire department, will net between $8000 and $10,000.

David Wiseman was drunk at Pleasanton, Alameda county, on the evening of the 23d. He attacked a Mr. Martin and got the worst of the fight. He then procured a shotgun and went to the Farmer's hotel. Martin, being advised, kept away. Wiseman finally entered the bar-room in search of his man. The men about the place observing the condition he was in tried to coax him away, which they could not do. They then tried to disarm him. In the melee he discharged the gun, the charge taking effect in the side of a man's head. The man is still alive, but it is thought the chances are against his recovery. Wiseman is in the custody of the officers. The wounded man is a stranger and his name could not be learned.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Don't Forget it. If you are troubled with nervousness, are disheartened, tired of life, fear death or feel out of sorts, as the saying is, you may safely conclude that you have the Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. The liver is very apt to become torpid at this season of the year, as poisons arising from marshes, stagnant water are more numerous, and are, through inhalation, taken into the blood. Unless the liver is strong and active, and furnishes a supply of fresh and pure blood to drive out the impurities, the above mentioned symptoms surely follow, and if not heeded, end in more terrible diseases and death. White's Great Liver Flower purges itself the great liver poisons. Its action on the liver is different from any medicine ever compounded. Its cures are truly wonderful. Try it. Price, twenty-five cents and seventy-five cents. For sale by our druggists, OSBORN & SHOEMAKER. an7 eod

ONE WORD EGOTISTICAL.

The Gazette, two years since, opposed every paper in this State upon the question of compromising the bullion tax. Its course was outspoken, and excited much enmity, even among citizens of this county. There were men who hinted darkly that "there was nothing in opposing 'em." We took the enemies with the few words of praise given us by honest men and waited. We defended the position as well as our ability permitted, and our elders in the profession, notably in Virginia, voted it a case of suicide.

The State courts sustained us. The United States court decided with us, the tax collectors proved our position. The platforms of both parties have taken the same ground, and any public man who speaks in a doubtful tone upon this question is now by common consent voted insane.

The Gazette regards this as satisfactory endorsement. If, however, any editor in this State is not convinced, we can offer additional arguments.

BRADLEY.

The Democratic party of Nevada is devoid of shame. At least has not enough shame to prevent its going back upon its own declared principle; its hands to an incredulous heaven and solemnly promised it and doing that very thing which it would not do. In spite of all pledges and platforms to the contrary, the party which was "unalterably opposed to a third term" has renominated Bradley for Governor. The Democrats are welcome to him. He is now the embodiment of their (and his own) falsity. Bradley is doubtless the strongest candidate the Democracy could have chosen. His ignorance and stupidity appeal irresistibly to the vast mass of Democratic voters. He is one of themselves for he knows nothing and is proud of it.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In his most horrid nightmare Cassidy, of the Eureka Sentinel, never dreamed that he should be compelled to force himself down to such a banquet as the Democratic State convention has prepared for him. Just as he had painfully forced Bradley down his inflamed throat with the handle of his fork George D. Baker, served up as Secretary of State, without any sauce, is placed before him. Let the servants be called and lead away from the table Mr. Cassidy, the boss of the Eureka Democracy. The gentleman is unwell. Baker is of the chivalry wing of the Base Range Democracy. Cassidy is the chief of the mudsills. Is it useful to say that they hate one another only Democrats can? Give Mr. Cassidy a little time, waiter, and then he will stagger in again, faint and carve and devour this new crew.

"Better be called a bolter than a slave," says Fred Hart of the Revue. Yes, Freddie; but it is a good thing not to be mad when you discover that you are not the astute wire-puller you thought yourself. Wounded vanity, young springald, is all that is the matter with you. You can make a bright paper and nobody denies it, but to say you are a politician and know how to make a Congressman's fight for re-nomination is to run the danger of being elected by acclamation to the presidency of the Sazerac Lying club. Don't sour, little one.

No ticket ever presented by the Republicans of Nevada has given as much satisfaction to the party as the present one. Both Republicans and Democrats unite in saying that it is the strongest that could possibly be put forward.—Carson Tribune.

These brave words are merely an echo of the Deacon's outspoken and audacious Republicanism which promises to seal the Democratic parapet and put the garrison to the sword. Franco needs soldiers and this doughty knight is welcome.

What ho! Seneschal, a cup of sack for the Deacons.

The Governor, Congressman, and Supreme Judge have been assessed $1000. The other State officers are asked for $750 each. This is rough on the editorial candidates Daggett and Mighels. We are in a position to know all about their private affairs and they have never seen $750. However we have befriended them before and will not forsake them now.

Pride in the profession induces this sacrifice which is positively the last. Six per cent.

There is no time when the talented editor of the Journal appears to better advantage than when he soars. Behold the following highly-wrought piece of imagery called forth by the marriage of a Reno actress:

"We wish the happy couple all the pleasures of life, and hope that when life's drop curtain shall run down it will be upon a part well played, and amid the encores of respecting friends."

Yelling "encore" to a dead actress would, to our practical mind, look like crowding the mourners.

"Heah, Garrard," yelled His Excellency, as he saw the Democratic editors gathering about the platform of the party, plates in hand. "Close up that meat safe, fore de boy's gorges 'emselves. Some of you must wait sons, dere'll be enough for us all."

The hungry stultifiers turned away sad-eyed and with collapsed stomachs and fell into their seats with a dull thud. The nominees all yelled for Broadhorns and the new Democratic bird shrieked above the din his idea of the platform.

"Caw, caw, caw."

Verbum Sap, of the Carson Tribune is worthy of a word of praise. The old gentleman's stomach takes to crow with an alacrity that comes of long practice. We are glad to see you standing in, daddy. It's tough, of course, but as long as you don't say anything people won't notice your private agony.

Did you ever see a small boy making faces at a locomotive? This grand sight has been reproduced in a political sense by the attitude of Freddy Hart towards Hon. R. M. Daggett.

When the locomotive starts the small boy will get off the track.

Bravo, Reno!

[Truckee Republican.]

Truckee extends her hand to her sister Reno. If the Reno story is true, the work of the vigilantes was commendable. A brute attempted to ruin a trusting, honest-minded, virtuous girl, and the citizens clothed the brute in a garb befitting his black-heartedness. If he suffered some pain at their hands, some anguish, some harsh usage, did it more than counterbalance the terror, the grief, the agony of mind to which a pure girl was subjected by his treatment? Picture one's sister arriving in Reno at two o'clock in the night, having been enticed thither by promises of honest employment, by a villain who represented himself as a widow lady. Picture her reception by the ruffian, who, knowing her to be a friendless, unprotected stranger, leads her into a drinking brothel and tries to drug away her senses. It is an hour when few people are on the street, and the trembling girl is compelled to listen to insulting proposals which made her shudder with shame and affright. Every indignity short of actual violence is endured by the poor girl, whose tears offer slight protection against the beast who has determined upon her ruin. Could anything more dreadful befall a refined, delicate, sensitive young lady? Could a more terrible fate be imagined than that one's sister should be compelled to pass the long night hours on the streets of a strange town, in a low drinking den, at the mercy of a degraded, unprincipled brute? Weary with her long journey from San Francisco, terror stricken and horrified at the language and treatment she has received, the same girl is taken by a second ruffian, a pal of the first, led out of town across a bridge, and subjected not only to insults but to violent assault which it requires all her strength to resist. Picture one's sister; picture your sister enduring all this torment, indignity and shame, and when you realize the intensity of the poor girl's sufferings—say as all Truckee does—"Bravo, Reno!"

Sitting Bull Wants to Come Back.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—A dispatch was received yesterday by Gen. Sheridan from Col. Miles, dated from Fort Keogh, Montana, saying that six Sioux Indians had arrived at that post direct from the British Possessions, being emissaries sent over the line by Sitting Bull to ascertain on what terms his people would be permitted to surrender to the United States military authorities. They represented to Col. Miles that the Sioux Indians who had taken refuge in Canada were heartily desirous of returning to the American side.

Deny it, Verbum.

[Stock Report.]

We received a note from the senior editor this morning. He is well pleased with the Republican ticket as a whole, and announces that he will take a general tour of the eastern part of the State before returning home.—Carson Tribune.

Visiting the candidates, eh, Deacon? Ah! that is a good idea. The early bird always has the best racket at the worm.

An Old Pioneer.
[Gold Hill News.]

We met in Virginia this morning the man who built the first house on Truckee Meadows. His name is John F. Stone, of Stone and Gates Crossing. When he stopped there in 1858 the grass was as high as the backs of his horses. All old-timers will remember the ferryman at what is now Glendale.

The Fair at Marysville.

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 24.—The Northern District Fair commenced yesterday with large attendance. At the fair the Pavilion a number of entries are being made, which by to-morrow will be pretty well filled up. At the fair grounds there is not as much stock as usual, but there is quite a fine display of horses. At 2 o'clock a trotting race took place for a purse of $250, for three minute class. Tule Duck, Lady Lightfoot, Oak Leaf and Tilton Almont started. It was well contested, five heats being trotted. Tule Duck won the race and first money, Tilton Almont second money, and Lady Lightfoot third. Time 2:49 1/2, 2:46 1/2, 2:49 1/2, 2:50, 2:48. The formal opening of the exhibition will take place to-morrow evening.

The Yellow Fever Spreading.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The Times New Orleans special says: The yellow fever is spreading into every locality. It has not yet invaded Algiers, Grena or Carrollton. The Third district and the entire rear suburbs, heretofore enjoying immunity, are now attacked with great violence. None of these localities report to the Board of Health, and no statistics of the number attacked or those who have died are kept.

BORN.

FULTON—In Reno, September 24th, 1878, to the wife of R. L. Fulton—a son.

JOTTINGS.

—The tower on the pavilion is being erected to-day.

—Forty cars of tea and fifteen cars of silk passed east last night by special trains.

—R. H. Wright, of Mackey & Fair's camp, is in town, putting his weight on the political scales.

—Henry Menke is lying at the point of death. It is not expected that he will live through the night.

—The case of Giuseppe Rinaldo vs. Patrick McCarran was argued and submitted in the District Court this morning.

—The Republican County convention meets on Saturday, the Democratic on Tuesday and the Workingmen the Tuesday following.

—The many friends of Jack Williams, C. P. R. R. conductor, will be glad to learn that he has cleaned up a snug little sum in Mexican.

—The candidates announced before the primaries are all mad. Why? They say that their delegates are all blooming into candidates. Sad.

—M. Nathan returned this morning from an extended business visit to San Francisco. He has brought back a big stock of fall and winter clothing.

—Messrs. Weil Bros. have just received a large and choice lot of ladies' cloaks, ranging in price from $8 to $35. These gentlemen will have an interesting word for the ladies in tomorrow's GAZETTE.

—The GAZETTE reporters have no serious objection to the Journal taking items verbatim from the columns of this paper provided proper credit be given, but they object to filling two papers for one salary.

—The young lady lured to Reno by Tar-and-feather Jones got $70 or $100 which the Justice of the Peace compelled the scoundrel to pay over. Mr. Cain, her lawyer, kept the other $30 for his services.

—Frantic endeavors have been made during the last few days, to secure the office of State Senator as a gift to a deserving person. Petitions and caucuses have failed so far, and a political miracle is needed.

Conference Appointments.
The following are the appointments made for the ensuing year by the Nevada Conference of the M. E. Church: Reno District—Charles McKelvey, P. E.—Reno, Charles McKelvey; Virginia City, W. C. Gray; Gold Hill and Dayton, Warren Nims; Genoa, to be supplied; Truckee, T. S. Uren.

Austin District—J. D. Hammond, P. E.—Carson, to be supplied; Austin, C. W. Crall; Winnemucca, W. Carver; Eureka, R. A. Ricker; Unionville, George Jennings; Tuscarora, to be supplied.

Sierra District—A. P. White, P. E.—Susanville, A. P. White; Indian Valley, Lorr Ewing; Quincy, N. G. Luke; Sierra Valley, G. D. Hines; Honey Lake, Chas. Mulholland; Eureka Mills, supplied by J. Fearn; Surprise Valley, to be supplied; Modoc, supplied by Bro. Vincent; Big Valley, supplied by J. R. Hammond; Fall River, to be supplied.

Amador District—G. B. Hinkle, P. E.—Amador, Bodie and Bridgeport, G. B. Hinkle; Owens River, to be supplied; Walker River, F. M. Willis.

Personal.
E. A. Underwood of Wadsworth, a prominent candidate for Assemblyman before the Republicans was in town yesterday. Mr. U. has a host of good friends in Wadsworth and a large stock of good sound ideas in his head. Jake Lewis of the same busy burg was in the metropolis.

OUR PAINTED LILY.

A "Gazette" Reporter Interviews Tar-and-feather Jones at Truckee.

A special reporter of the GAZETTE was sent to Truckee yesterday for the purpose of seeing W. J. Jones, the scoundrel who was tarred and feathered here last week for enticing a respectable girl from San Francisco by pretending that he was a widow in need of a companion and for writing beastly letters to respectable ladies of this town and otherwise insulting them. A great many false stories concerning the affair have appeared in the newspapers of the coast, chiefly the lies of the fellow himself. These fabrications have gained Jones a great deal of sympathy, which has entirely disappeared whenever the facts have come to light. The reporter found this the case in Truckee, where at first much indignation was felt at the "outrage" perpetrated by the citizens of Reno. The GAZETTE, however, has set that all right, and now the Truckeeites are merely waiting till Jones gets well enough to travel to give him the grand bounce. As will be seen from an editorial article republished in this issue of the GAZETTE, the Republican, which last week thought that Jones had been shamefully used, now that it is informed of the truth, warmly congratulates Reno on her work. In company with C. F. McGlashan, the editor of the Republican, the GAZETTE reporter

CALLED UPON JONES

at Charles Wade's lodging house, corner of Bridge and Front streets. The poor sufferer was lying upon his bed, dressed only in his undershirt and drawers. Those eyes, about losing the sight of which so much has been said, looked up brightly enough at the visitors, entered and were all right, barring a little inflammation. Shaving Jones' head and clipping his abundant whiskers which erst he dyed so carefully has not improved the appearance of the now famous masquer. It is hardly necessary to state that the GAZETTE man was not introduced by Mr. McGlashan as a reporter of the Gazette. The room was pervaded by an intolerable for the patient has not got rid of all of his suit yet. He is of a light saffron hue, and under his nails, in the wrinkles around his eyes and behind his ears, the tar still sticks. Jones quite willingly began to spin lies. He said that three men entered his room in the Granger House here, and before he knew what they wanted, knocked him senseless and he knew no more till he found himself in the street. He shamelessly asserts also that the crowd robbed him of $80. These are both lies out of the whole cloth if the words of some of the most respectable citizens of Reno may be taken in preference to that of the injured Jones. The reporter remarked: "The Reno GAZETTE seems to have given you fits?"

ODOR OF TAR,

Jones—The GAZETTE? That GAZETTE is a posthumous journal!

Jones appeared to think this was almost severe enough to make him even. He went on to say that this journal had lied about him atrociously. It had stated that he had taken all the next day to clean him and that kerosene had been used in the process, whereas the truth was that he had been made fresh and sweet by seven o'clock on the morning of his arrival in Truckee, and linsed oil to the quantity of five gallons exactly had been used to purify him. No kerosene had been employed.

HE'S COMING BACK.

Reporter—What are you going to do?

Jones—Just as soon as I get rid of the smell of this cursed tar and my eyes get well, I will go back to Reno if I can get United States Marshal to protect me.

Reporter—why do you want to go back?

Jones—I've got about three thousand dollars invested in my business in Reno.

[The Reporter afterwards learned from Mr. Gray, Jones' lawyer, that the fellows entire assets here will hardly foot up $800.]

Reporter—What else do you want to do there?

Jones—I want revenge. I know the names of a dozen of the ring-leaders who abused me, and—

He declined to say what he intended to do to the doomed dozen, but there was blood in his eye.

Dr. Curless, who is attending Jones, says that his eyes have never been in any danger.

A TRUCKEE OPINION.

While in the tar chamber the reporter heard the following interesting bit of conversation. Jones turned to Mr. McGlashan and said:

"You're editor of the Republican, ain't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, you behaved first rate to me in your paper last week."

"Yes," said Mr. McGlashan, "but I've given you blazes to-day."

"Why?" asked Jones, greatly startled.

"Because," said Mr. McGlashan quietly, "I've read the Reno Gazette, and know now that you are an infernal scoundrel."

Our Ostrich didn't seem to be comforted, and sullenly rolled over on his tar-scented couch.

The fellow is bitter in his hatred of his pal, Carson and thought he ought to have been tarred and feathered too.

—Mr Osborne, of the Bodie Standard was in town last night.

CAW! CAW! CAW!

The New Democratic Bird's Screams at Carson.

It was a GAZETTE reporter's pleasure to be present at the grand assembling of the crow-eaters of Nevada, at 12 m. last Monday. The Carson opera-house was comfortably filled by 136 delegates, proxies included, and a large number of Democratic and Republican spectators in attendance at the Democratic State convention. Gabriel Cohn, of Elko, presided, as temporary chairman. The usual committees were appointed, and the unwashed adjourned until 3 p. m. All except the Republican part of the audience flooded the various saloons, revived their drooping spirits and did the usual amount of wire-pulling. By 4 o'clock they were ready for operations. The committee on credentials met no trouble with their report and were discharged. Then followed the report on platform and resolutions.

Senator Creswell, of Nye, a square-built man with store coat buttoned down before, arose at the suggestion of the chairman and read his own manuscript. The resolutions were largely stolen from those of the Republican platform, except on the third-term plank, which naively provided dilute sauce for the unpalatable crow. The untrified, in consistent representations of Nevada Democracy, knew that this issue must be met and so they said that the third term doctrine only applied to a national chief executive but not to the Governor of a State like Nevada. Bradley must be endorsed and the unwashed swallowed the mass of whisks and incompetency with a frantic cheer.

Hillhouse of Eureka and Baxter-haus of Lyon held little argument over the number of members of the State Central Committee from Elko but the patriotic freshmen won the day and the committee reports and order of business was adopted. Butley of Eureka was elected Chairman, John Richardson of Washoe Vice President, Graham of Storey and Gorman of Lincoln Secretaries. The State Central Committee of twenty-three was elected and the convention adjourned to recess practices.

STAYING SESSION.

It was the time now for the taking of the crow with hemlock sauce, but the condole was resigned and even seemed anxious to each take his dish. The chairman, an angular elevated piece of human statuary, with most homely face, leaned slightly forward and announced the convention ready for nominations. Bradley was nominated for Governor amid the wildest applause. The old chief not being present a committee was sent out to scout the Capital for Broadhorns. In the meantime Judge Hayden paid an eloquent tribute to our fellow townsman J. C. Hagerman. Jewett Adams then was nominated by the fiery Blawerhasset. The smiling Jewett came to the front and handed over his $20. He then modestly got of his little speech of half dozen sentences, smilingly bowed and seated himself. W. E. F. Deal, was the nominee for Congress. Deal is a lawyer at Virginia City, a pleasant appearing gentleman, but unquestionably a rebel sympathizer, was as plainly to be noted from his allusion to the doctrine of States rights. Bradley now came into the hall and bowing before the audience said:

"Gentlemen and fellow citizens: I have my resolutions, and I heartily endorse them. I'll never be found behind my duty. I'll do whatever may be right for the people of this State. Gentlemen, you must excuse me now." We were never more disappointed in anyone than in Bradley, but our astonishment was more marked that a body of men for the greater part intelligent, bowing in servile obedience to an illiterate old man, whose only claim for office is "he is an available candidate." "He is honest." What he did say was child-like and yet in this he was coached by Dennis of the Times-Review. He met a warm reception; he gave them nothing in return. A grand opportunity was presented, but a pigmy, save in adipose senility ignominiously, lost the occasion.

Said a Democrat to us later in the evening: "Nevada has a population which in point of intelligence, compares most favorably with the other States in the Union and yet an ignoramus is chosen as the standard bearer of one of the leading parties of this State. It was a shame that such a man as Hagerman, Fox, Hillhouse or Baker, was not chosen instead of Bradley."

Well, says another, "we can use Bradley. He will do what we want him to." And this man stands against John H. Kinkade, and the people of this State are soon to be asked to choose between the two men, one incompetent, the other most competent, and in every way qualified for the high position.

YESTERDAY'S SESSION

was occupied with the nominations for the remaining offices, all of which appeared in yesterday's GAZETTE, save D. R. Sessions, for State Superintendent of public instruction, Harry Day for Surveyor General, and Sam D. King for Judge of the Second Judicial district.

There was considerable wrangling over the two last named State officers.

The banquet is now spread and the rank and file will pass their plates.

Unexpected.

The Democratic State convention nominated one of Washoe's best citizens for the office of State Treasurer.

J. E. Jones is a good citizen for any county or any State, and we are unwilling to see him slaughtered. If he were not a Democrat—however that is neither here nor there.

Unexpected.

Haverly's minstrels at the Academy of Music to-night. It is the best troupe of the kind now traveling.

The newspapers everywhere speak of them in the warmest terms of praise. Haverly's minstrels advertise that they will give an evening of pure fun and anyone who wants to shake the dust out of his wrinkles should go early for there won't be much room to spare.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

An Effort to be Made to Finish It—A Liberal Clergyman.

Rev. Mr. Jenvey, who is temporarily filling the pulpit of the Episcopal church here, during the absence of Rev. Mr. Lucas, is anxious to begin a good work. Mr. Lucas departed for the East, broken down bodily and exhausted mentally. Much of his worry was no doubt occasioned by the unfinished condition of the church edifice. Outside it is completed, but the interior is bare and uninviting. Mr. Jenvey is an expert at building churches. The pretty little house of worship in Silver City would never have existed but for his exertions. He is now very anxious to finish the interior of the Reno church before Mr. Lucas returns. He has calculated that the cost of doing this will be about $1000. Among the improvements contemplated is the removal in part of the unsightly tower which now crowns the building. Mr. Jenvey, with characteristic generosity, will himself subscribe $500 toward the work which he contemplates. Reno ought to come down with the other half in short order. This is a town of families, and the more churches and schools we have the better. It is not creditable to us that the Episcopal church should be in its present incomplete state. The members have done about as much as their means would allow. The church is entirely out of debt—something rather remarkable for a church without a debt like a bell without a clapper. The friends of the parish should subscribe that other $500 immediately. The plans and specifications are in Mr. Jenvey's hands, and builders are invited to call upon him and see them.

Mr. Abelliar's Joke.

"Sperkin' of women," said old Mr. Abelliar as he sat in his favorite Virginia street saloon last night with his two old married cronies, speakin' of women, did you ever notice Jim, that the sex 'aint got no sense of humor?" Jim merely shook his bald head mournfully and hoisted his beer to his lips. He scratched his grizzled jaw and answered:

"Seems to me I've noticed it. 'That you have' said Mr. Abelliar, if you've got eyes in yer head. It was only last night that I went home an' cried to get offa joke. Mrs. A. was in bed, for it was rather late an' I felt cloudy an' to hiven up things I says: 'My dear why am I like Jones, the fellow that got tarred an' feathered?' Says she, raisin' her head from her pillow, 'Because you're a brute I s'pose.' 'No,' says I, 'that ain't it.' 'Well' says she, her female curiosity gettin' the better of her, 'Why are you like him?' I was riled, a little an' I forgettin' consequences, I up an' says, 'Because I'd think I was an all-fired lucky man to be in Truckee this mornin' with strict orders never to come back. 'I forgot the big knobs on the bed-posts was loose. P'raps you'd oblige me Jim by feelin' this ere lump on my head.'"

Meadow Lake.

Meadow Lake, poor old abandoned Meadow Lake is coming to the front again, and the refractory ores of this once famous mining district are to have another trial. We are among those who believe that the secret of working Meadow Lake ores at a profit will yet be discovered. According to the Truckee Republican, Hartly, an old resident of the Meadow Lake district, has bonded his four mines to George D. Roberts of Virginia, for $6000. The mines are the Excelsior, Pittsburgh, Bullion and Keystone. The report reached Truckee at first that the mines had been sold for $60,000, and for awhile Meadow Lake stock was booming. However, it speaks well enough for the mines, as it is. Mr. McKay, an old miner, has sunk a shaft 100 feet on the Enterprise mine, and commenced drilling. The air becoming foul, he is at present engaged in putting in air pipes. The roaster, amalgamator, pulverizer and other machinery of the Meadow Lake Consolidated is ready for shipment to the mines as soon as it can be loaded. This company is rushing work, and will be ready for business in ten days.

Lost to View.

J. C. Weston, the Virginia street upholsterer has disappeared in a very mysterious manner. He has not been seen since a week ago Monday morning. Up to that time he had been working steadily, seeming to be in his usual spirits, and no reason can be surmised by his friends for his sudden drop from sight. He was not a drinking man, and as he was a Republican, it can't be supposed that he fled from Nevada to escape a heavy crowd diet. He has brothers and sisters living here, and they are very anxious to learn his whereabouts.

Since the above was in type a GAZETTE reporter has learned from one of the delegates to the Republican State convention at Eureka, that he met Weston at Winnemucca on Tuesday last week, and asked him what he was doing out there. He gave confused replies. Weston seemed to be sober and in his right mind. It is highly probable that Weston has left to avoid business complications.

Haverly's Minstrels.

Haverly's minstrels at the Academy of Music to-night. It is the best troupe of the kind now traveling.

The newspapers everywhere speak of them in the warmest terms of praise. Haverly's minstrels advertise that they will give an evening of pure fun and anyone who wants to shake the dust out of his wrinkles should go early for there won't be much room to spare.

TO CROW CASSIDY.

Crow to the right of him, " " " left " " " just in front " " " Strangely like Bradley. Stormed him with life and yell. Boldly he sneered and well. Down on him to the death. He gave the third term h—l All to beat Bradley. Crow to the right of him, " " " left " " " just in front " " " Bating it sourly.

An Unregenerate Infant.

Little Lizzie Edwards, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. Edwards, of the GAZETTE office, has returned with her mamma from a visit to Truckee. The Methodist Conference was in session and the house where Miss Lizzie stopped was full of parsons. She trotted into the parlor one evening when many of the commissioned officers of the army of the Lord were present, and began chattering. No one paid the least attention to her, and the unregenerate little lady stamped her foot indignantly, and cried out:

"My God, will nobody listen to me?"

This is the same young woman who said after baptism that she had been "advised." It doesn't seem to have done her much good.

Roll of Honor.

The following list contains the names of those pupils in the highest department of the Reno public school who have not been absent nor tardy, during the month ending Sept. 21st: Eddie Barber, Guy Manning, Bertie Budden, George Coffin, Marcus Fredrick, Nellie Cohen, Annie Williams, Louis Wintermantel, Armenia Grippen.

In scholarship and deportment the following named deserve honorable mention:

Eddie Barber 95, Jessie Wintermantel 97, Belle Cohen 94, Ada Tilton 90, Guy Manning 92, Bertie Budden 94, Marcus Fredrick 97, Annie Williams 100, Eddie Graff 94, Louis Wintermantel 100, Minnie Mans 92.

Death of Rev. Mr. Kelly's Father.

Rev. S. P. Kelly is in town. He intended starting for Trenton N. J. this evening on account of the severe illness of his father, but a dispatch today brings the sad intelligence that he has died. The deceased was a large manufacturer in Trenton. He was 78 years of age at the time of his death.

Heavy Freight Shipments.

There is more freight passing over the C. P. R. R. than for years past. The average is about 100 cars daily. The freight being shipped east is mostly wool and canned fruits from California. Large quantities of agricultural implements pass through daily from the East.

A. K. LAMB HEREBY ANNOUNCES himself a candidate for Sheriff of Washoe county, subject to the Republican County Convention.

Resolved, That we re-affirm the principles of the Union, and the slaves who maintained the essential doctrine of this is a nation and not a confederacy bound together with ropes of sand, and that both State and national governments should give ample and complete protection to its citizens, both at home and abroad; that against the assaults of traitors and rebels the Republican party has preserved these governments, and the Republic of Nevada now demands that every qualified elector in every State—in every State, South and North, Democrats or Republicans, black or white—shall be permitted, undisturbed by force or fraud, to vote at all elections, at the places prescribed by law, and that every vote so cast shall be honestly counted, and that every person chosen by such vote, to any office shall be freely inducted into it, and effectively supported in the discharge of its duties. That the Democratic party of the South, by its refusal to accept the Union, and complete protection of all its citizens, in their civil, political, personal and property rights, is the duty to which the Republican party stands secretly pledged. In order to redeem this pledge, it placed the recent amendments in the Constitution, and upon the righteous basis of said amendments it will go forward in the work of pacification, until peace shall come through right, duty and contentment through justice. That the evident purpose of the Democratic party, if it should come into full power, is to pay hundreds of millions of suspended war claims of disloyal men, already presented to Congress or awaiting a favorable moment for presentation, makes it doubly important, now that the Senate is soon to pass under Democratic domination, that the Republican party should live to be chosen in the coming election should be under Republican control.

Resolved, That the validity of the presidential term was definitely and finally settled by the forty-fourth Congress, and that the attempt to shadow forth by the Senate resolutions to disturb the result of the election, President Hayes and Vice-President Wheeler held their seats is revolutionary and dangerous to the peace and stability of the nation, and the underlying motives of the rebel Democracy call for our unqualified disapproval and denunciation.

Resolved, That it is the duty of Congress to perfect with all possible expedition such legislation as will ensure to the country the benefit of an honest and fair adjustment of freight and fares on all railroads, whose construction is the result of the national policy, and whose operation is a public utility, and whose rates and other government aid assistance.

Resolved, That the Republican party favors and demands at the hands of the State Legislature legislation having in view the regulation and equalization of freight and fares on all railroads within this State.

Resolved, That in their shameful disregard of our avowed principles, the Democratic party of this State in their unmistakable purpose to nominate the present incumbent of the gubernatorial office for a third term, have brought upon themselves the deserved distrust, not only of every Republican, but of the more honorable and consistent members of their own party.

Resolved, That we believe in the doctrine of rotation in office, and that so believing we are opposed to the nomination of candidates to office under the State government for a third term.

Resolved, That we hail with joy the reorganization of silver as a step toward our emancipation from the grasp of the corrupt money rings of Europe and America, and we ask Congress to complete the measure of our redemption by according to silver unrestricted coinage.

Resolved, That in the legislation of the forty-fifth Congress, nothing more fully commands our approbation than the efforts of our Senators and Representatives in securing the reorganization of silver and the dual standard in the coinage of the country.

Resolved, That those who are in retirement in the public service; that men elected to office should be qualified by education, intelligence and character to perform the duties of their respective offices, and that the system of deputyships and clerkships at present existing in the executive branch should be abolished at once and forever.

Resolved, That public lands are the property of the people, and that no one should be allowed to acquire title to them by the settlement by the Government and protected in their possession by just title.

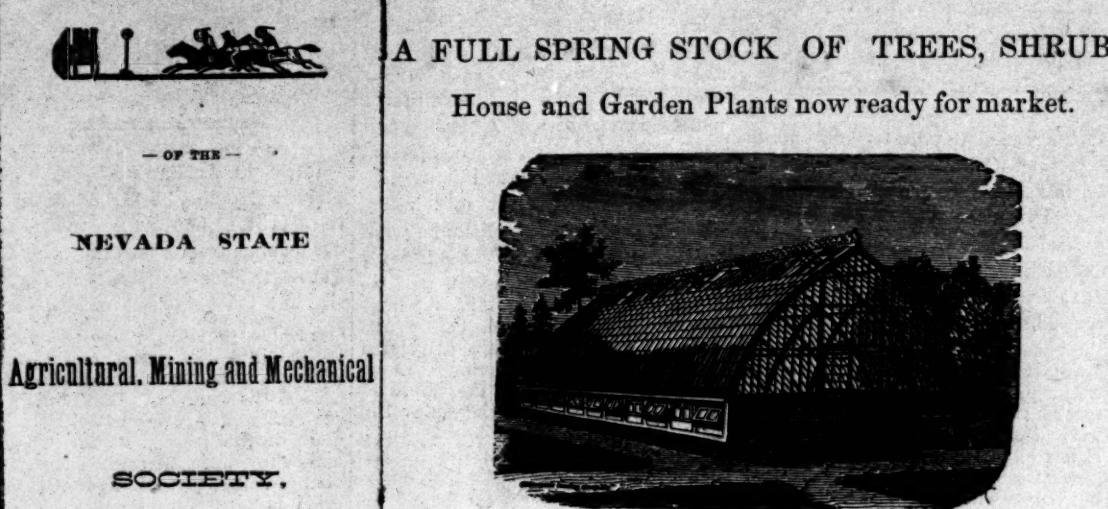

Resolved, That we recognize the wisdom of the framers of our constitution in providing for the taxation of the property of the State; that all taxes should be equal and uniform; that the present system of taxation is as just and fair as any that can be devised; and that no person should be taxed more than his property; that no taxes should be raised any one year than are necessary to pay the actual and necessary expenses of the State during the same period, when economically and honestly administered; that the rate of taxation should be reduced so as to produce only such a sum as is absolutely required to pay the expenses of the State, and the same time having due regard to the surplus of funds already in the treasury.

Resolved, That the Republican party in Congress, in the spirit of the assault of a malignant and unscrupulous opposition, have been brought to light which reflects anything but credit upon the representatives of our organization and its principles.

Resolved, That labor in itself recognizes the Republican party as its exponent; demands emancipation from the shackles of slavery to its proper dignity, a just and equal place with capital, and that both are alike necessary to the well-being of society.

Resolved, That the general government should immediately take such steps as to so to solve the problem of the immigration of Asiatics to our country; and that such just and peaceful measures should be taken as to be appropriate and necessary to induce those already among us to quit our shores at the earliest practical moment.
